Coordinated Guidelines on Competitions with Limited Submission Requirements
[\[Click here to go directly to the submission form\]](#).

Occasionally, federal and state agencies, foundations and other ~~profit~~ organizations, as well as corporations, limit the number of applications/nominations a campus may submit for specific awards and prizes. When a ~~request~~ ~~request~~ for proposals (RFP) restricts the number of submissions, institutions are required to screen ~~proposals~~ or nominations to determine which applications will be submitted for competition.

For purposes of these types of competitions, ~~the~~ lakeside campuses (Lake Shore and Water Tower) and the Maywood campus are considered two different “organizations” and so the proposal limit would apply to each location separately.

Competitions Held by Philanthropic Sponsors (Corporations, Foundations, and Private Organizations)

For each limited submission opportunity from a ~~non~~ profit entity, foundation or corporation, Corporate and Foundation Relations (CFR) will notify the Associate Provost for Research

Pre-Proposal Submission

Each preproposal must be submitted via the online Limited Submission Competition form, which is found here

In addition to information concerning the external opportunity, the proposal should include:

1. PI and CoPI(s) contact information
2. Project's working title
3. 2-3 page project description, which includes self-assessment of the competitiveness of the project and its relation to the University's mission
4. Curriculum vitae for each investigator
5. One-page estimated budget (total direct costs, including applicable fringe benefits, of the contemplated project).

Proposal Review Committee

For each limited submission competition where there is more than one proposal, the Associate Provost for Research Centers (and the Advancement Division's Director of Corporate and Foundation Relations, when it involves a philanthropic funding
